MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Results of Operations from January 1, 2021 to June 30, 2021

Markets & Effect

Since the beginning of 2021, the prospects for an eventual economic recovery have been improving, although there is unease around new variants of concern and considerable dispersion in vaccination rates among developed and developing countries.

The value style, as measured by the MSCI World Value Index, has had a strong resurgence, outperforming the growth style, as measured by the MSCI World Growth Index, by 3.0%, since the start of 2021. U.S. value stocks have historically led out of U.S. economic recessions. As the world gradually moves on from COVID-19-related shutdowns, traditional value sectors, including energy, financials and industrials, led markets higher in both the U.S. and in Europe.

In the global small cap space, the S&P Developed Small Cap Index gained 11.4% in the first six months of the year. While all sectors moved higher, the energy sector stood out, rebounding from last year's lows with a 49.8% return. Overall performance was also boosted by the consumer discretionary and financial sectors, which were up 17.8% and 16.4% year to date, respectively.

The Canadian market returned 17.3% in the first half of the year, with the energy and financial sectors posting the biggest gains. The energy sector advanced 37.0%, largely driven by the rise in the price of crude oil from resurgent economic activity. Meanwhile, the financial sector's 23.4% return was mostly due to the "Big Five" banks as the outlook for the Canadian economy improved with increased COVID-19 vaccine roll-out.

Emerging markets, as measured by the MSCI EM Index, advanced 4.4% for the period. Many of Latin American and Southeast Asian countries in this segment, including Colombia, Peru and Indonesia, have had an especially hard time handling the COVID-19 virus and are still experiencing economic slowdowns, while others, such as Russia, Taiwan and the Czech Republic, have seen an economic rebound.

Performance

The Fund's Series A units outperformed its benchmark, gaining 6.7% versus a gain of 4.4% for the MSCI Emerging Markets Index (the "Index").

The Fund returns are after the deduction of fees and expenses while the benchmark returns do not include any costs of investing. See the "Past Performance" section for the returns of the other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses or timing of series introduction.

The Fund's holdings in Brazil contributed to performance. Holdings in aerospace & defense made a positive contribution to overall performance. Holdings in insurance detracted from performance during the period.

Asset Mix

Being an actively managed Fund, exposure to various countries and industries shifted due to stock-specific buying and selling as well as to changes in the prices of the Fund's holdings. However, the asset mix did not change significantly over the course of the period. At June 30, 2021, equities made up 98.1% of the Fund, and approximately 1.9% was in cash and other net assets.

The Fund's most significant country exposure change was a decrease in holdings in China to 8.9% from 13.3% at December 31, 2020. The most significant industry exposure change was a decrease in holdings in software to nil from 3.3% at December 31, 2020.

In line with its bottom-up investment philosophy, Brandes LP continues to build the portfolio on a company-by-company basis. Brandes LP only compares the Fund to the Index in the course of ensuring that it remains appropriately diversified. As a result, the Fund's industry and country weightings were quite different from the Index during the period. For example, at June 30, 2021, the Fund held 6.8% in wireless telecommunication services, versus 1.4% for the Index.

Typically less than 5% of the Fund is allocated to any one security, at the time of purchase. Therefore, the addition or deletion of an individual security will generally not constitute a substantial change to the portfolio.

The Manager confirms that the Fund did not borrow money during the period.

Flows & Fees

The Fund's Net Asset Value increased to $233.3 million at June 30, 2021, from $220.5 million at December 31, 2020. Of this change, an increase of $15.9 million was due to positive investment performance (net of investment income), and a decrease of $3.1 million was due to net outflows.

For Series A units, the annualized management expense ratio ("MER") at June 30, 2021 is 2.69%, compared to 2.70% at December 31, 2020.

Recent Developments

There are no known changes at this time to the strategic positioning of the Fund, the manager, or portfolio sub-advisor.

The outbreak of the novel coronavirus, first detected in December 2019, rapidly became a pandemic and resulted in disruptions to the economies of many nations, individual companies and the markets in general. This created closed borders, quarantines, supply chain disruptions and general anxiety, which negatively impacted global markets in an unforeseeable manner. The impact of the novel coronavirus and other such future infectious diseases in certain regions or countries may be greater or less due to the nature or level of their public health responses or due to other factors. Health crises caused by the coronavirus outbreak or future infectious diseases may exacerbate other pre-existing political, social and economic risks in certain countries. The impact of such health crises may be quick, severe and of unknowable duration. This pandemic and other epidemics and pandemics that may arise in the future could result in continued volatility in the financial markets and lead to increased levels of Fund redemptions, which could have a negative impact on the Funds and could adversely affect a Fund's performance.

- The financial information presented in the Ratios and Supplemental Data table is derived from the Fund's Net Asset Value and is provided as at December 31 of the years shown.
- The management expense ratio ("MER") is calculated as the total management fees and operating expenses paid by each series of the Fund, including GST/HST and interest and excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and is expressed as a percentage of the average daily Net Asset Value of each series of the Fund on an annualized basis. Any management fee distributions paid by a series of the fund that effectively reduced management fees payable by some unitholders are not deducted from expenses to determine the overall MER of that series. The Manager, at its sole discretion, waives management fees or absorbs expenses. Such waivers and absorptions can be terminated at any time. The MERs of the Fund are shown both with and without the waiver and absorptions.
- Portfolio turnover rate is calculated at the Fund level based on the lesser of purchases or proceeds of sales of securities for the period, excluding cash, short term notes and bonds having maturity dates at acquisition of one year or less, divided by the average value of the portfolio securities for the period. The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
- The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average Net Asset Value of the Fund. The trading expense ratio is calculated at the Fund level and applies to all series of the Fund.

PAST PERFORMANCE

This section shows the historical performance for each series of the Fund for the six months ended June 30, 2021 and each of the previous annual periods ended December 31. Management fees and operating expenses have been taken into account before calculating performance, except in the case of Series I units where the management fee is calculated outside of the Fund. Historical performance does not take into account the potential impact on returns of purchases, redemptions, distribution fees or other optional charges or income taxes payable by an investor. Keep in mind that past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund will perform in the future.
