MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION OF FUND PERFORMANCE

Investment Objective and Strategies

The investment objective of the Fund is to achieve capital appreciation and generate income by investing primarily across a range of equity and debt securities around the globe. By actively managing equity and debt allocations, the Fund seeks to create a lower volatility pattern of returns when compared to global equities.

The portfolio sub-advisor in respect of this Fund, Lazard Asset Management (Canada) Inc., has retained Lazard Asset Management LLC ("Lazard") as its sub-advisor, which employs a team-based approach in the management of the Fund. Lazard's strategy is founded on the philosophy that an understanding of the current economic environment can be coupled with research into the drivers of (and risk to) outperformance to create a portfolio aligned with the current economic cycle.

The Fund may invest in units of other mutual funds including funds managed by Bridgehouse in order to achieve its investment objective and strategies.

Risk

As an investor in this Fund, you should be prepared for short-term performance fluctuations, and be a patient, long-term holder.

There were no significant changes to the level or type of risk you would expect from the Fund over the course of the year. It continues to have a low to medium risk level. Refer to the Fund's simplified prospectus for a complete list of all risks.

Results of Operations from January 1, 2021 to December 31, 2021

Markets & Effect

In 2021, global equity markets rose sharply even though uncertainty around coronavirus risk remained high, despite the discovery of a vaccine in November of 2020. The emergence of the rapidly spreading Delta and Omicron variants in the second half of 2021 sparked waves of infections around the world and investors feared that governments would be forced to impose economically punishing lockdowns.

The specter of surging global inflation was top of mind for investors for much of the year, amid supply-chain bottlenecks, labour shortages, and sharp increases in shipping costs and oil prices. With consumer prices remaining stubbornly high, all eyes were on the policy path of the U.S. Federal Reserve, whose announcement in the final weeks of the year that it would accelerate the tapering of its bond purchases and likely raise interest rates three times in 2022 received a mixed reaction from markets. With inflation reaching multi-year highs in their parts of the world, two other key central banks, the Bank of England and the European Central Bank, announced that they, too, were taking a more hawkish turn.

Negative developments in China during the year compounded market anxiety. China's stock market faltered due to concerns about the country's dimming economic outlook and debt-laden real estate sector. The government's regulatory crackdown on domestic sectors wiped out $1 trillion in stock market value in 2021.

Despite mounting uncertainty, consistently strong profits (especially for U.S. and European companies) provided momentum for a stock market rally in the developed world. Energy was the best performing sector in 2021, as shares of oil producers benefited from the rebound in oil prices. Consumer discretionary was the worst performing sector, as investors worried that higher inflation would curb demand for non-essential goods and services.

Global interest rates were mixed during the year, increasing in the first quarter, rallying in the second and remaining volatile in the third and fourth quarter. The yield on the benchmark US 10-year Treasury note ended the year at 1.51%, with the range for 2021 between 0.91% to 1.75%, which was actually carved out in the first quarter. Inflationary pressures continued to exert themselves. Across the Atlantic, the yield on the 10-year German bund, Europe's principal safe haven asset, ended the year at -0.17%, with the 2021 range from -0.57% to -0.08%.

Performance

The Fund's Series A units outperformed its benchmark, gaining 7.9% versus a gain of 7.4% for the Lazard Global Balanced Income Fund Benchmark (the "Blended Benchmark"). (Please see the Benchmark Indices section for a full description).

The Fund returns are after the deduction of fees and expenses while the benchmark returns do not include any costs of investing. See the "Past Performance" section for the returns of the other series, which may vary because of differences in management fees and expenses or timing of series introduction.

Holdings in software contributed to overall performance, while holdings in commercial banks detracted from performance during the period. Holdings in the United States contributed to performance, while holdings in Australia detracted from performance during the period.

Asset Mix

The Fund invests in a combination of equity and debt securities that are representative of different investment styles based on Lazard's view of market and economic conditions at the time. At December 31, 2021, equities made up 55.7% of the Fund, fixed income represented 42.8%, and approximately 1.5% was in cash and other net assets.

The Fund's most significant country exposure change was an increase in holdings in the United States to 53.5% from 50.5% at December 31, 2020. The most significant industry exposure change was an increase in holdings in semiconductors & semiconductor equipment to 2.2% from 0.7% at December 31, 2020.

The Manager confirms that the Fund did not borrow money during the period.

Flows & Fees

The Fund's Net Asset Value decreased to $25.0 million at December 31, 2021, from $28.0 million at December 31, 2020. Of this change, an increase of $1.9 million was due to positive investment performance (net of investment income), and a decrease of $4.9 million was due to net outflows.

For Series A units, the annualized management expense ratio ("MER") at December 31, 2021 is 2.16%, compared to 2.22% at December 31, 2020.

Recent Developments

There are no known changes at this time to the strategic positioning of the Fund, the manager, or portfolio sub-advisor.

The invasion of Ukraine by Russia on February 24, 2022 has resulted in western economic sanctions being imposed on Russia, notably barring Russian banks from the SWIFT financial messaging system, a key piece of banking infrastructure. In response to sanctions, Russian markets have been closed to all foreign investors. This has caused material volatility in Russian financial markets and impacted liquidity, market access and reliability of security prices. In addition, export embargoes may lead to increased volatility in commodity prices and global supply chain disruptions. It is uncertain how long the conflict, economic sanctions and market instability will continue and whether they will escalate further. The Fund manager and portfolio sub-advisor(s) continue to actively monitor the situation for any impacts on the Fund's existing as well as potential new holdings.

Effective on or before April 22, 2022, Bridgehouse will no longer pay trailing commissions to dealers that do not make a suitability determination, such as order-execution-only ("OEO") dealers, in accordance with the Canadian Securities Administrators' decision to end the payment of trailing commissions to OEO dealers that comes into effect on June 1, 2022. Accounts held at OEO dealers will only be permitted to purchase or hold securities of Series F of the Fund, which does not pay a trailing commission.

On March 16, 2022, Bridgehouse announced that effective at the close of business on or about April 22, 2022, all Series A units of the Fund held in accounts at OEO dealers will be switched into Series F at no cost to the unitholder and without a disposition for tax purposes.

Effective June 1, 2022, Bridgehouse will no longer offer purchases into the deferred sales charge ("DSC") series, including the low load series, of the Fund in accordance with the Canadian Securities Administrators' decision to ban all DSCs in Canada. Existing DSC redemption schedules for sales made prior to June 1, 2022 will be permitted to run their course.

The outbreak of the novel coronavirus, first detected in December 2019, rapidly became a pandemic and resulted in disruptions to the economies of many nations, individual companies and the markets in general. This created closed borders, quarantines, supply chain disruptions and general anxiety, which negatively impacted global markets in an unforeseeable manner. The impact of the novel coronavirus and other such future infectious diseases in certain regions or countries may be greater or less due to the nature or level of their public health responses or due to other factors. Health crises caused by the coronavirus outbreak or future infectious diseases may exacerbate other pre-existing political, social and economic risks in certain countries. The impact of such health crises may be quick, severe and of unknowable duration. This pandemic and other epidemics and pandemics that may arise in the future could result in continued volatility in the financial markets and lead to increased levels of Fund redemptions, which could have a negative impact on the Funds and could adversely affect a Fund's performance.

- The financial information presented in the Ratios and Supplemental Data table is derived from the Fund's Net Asset Value and is provided as at December 31 of the years shown.
- The management expense ratio ("MER") is calculated as the total management fees and operating expenses paid by each series of the Fund, including GST/HST and interest and excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, and the Portfolio's proportionate share of the MER, if applicable, of the Underlying Funds and Exchange Traded Funds in which the Portfolio has invested, allocated to that Series, and is expressed as a percentage of the average daily Net Asset Value of each series of the Fund on an annualized basis. Any management fee distributions paid by a series of the fund that effectively reduced management fees payable by some unitholders are not deducted from expenses to determine the overall MER of that series. The Manager, at its sole discretion, waives management fees or absorbs expenses. Such waivers and absorptions can be terminated at any time. The MERs of the Fund are shown both with and without the waiver and absorptions.
- Portfolio turnover rate is calculated at the Fund level based on the lesser of purchases or proceeds of sales of securities for the period, excluding cash, short term notes and bonds having maturity dates at acquisition of one year or less, divided by the average value of the portfolio securities for the period. The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio advisor manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a Fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the Fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Fund.
- The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, including the Portfolio's proportionate share of the commissions, if applicable, of the Underlying Funds and Exchange Traded Funds in which the Portfolio has invested, expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average Net Asset Value of the Fund. The trading expense ratio is calculated at the Fund level and applies to all series of the Fund.
